DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a 2-1/2 story, double house with "L" shaped wing, facing South. It is detached, although it fits against the house to the West. The facade contains two rectangular, six paneled entrance doors in the center with transoms of three lights, each above the doors. There is a window beside each door making it four bays wide. The second story has four windows all being double hung with 6/6 lights, plain white trim and louvered, dark green shutters on the first floor. (Second floor shutters have been removed). The house is built of soft brick painted red and is running bond with low fieldstone foundation (Flemish bond on the first story). No columns or pillars flank the entrance doors which have before them a low brick stoop with iron railings on each side. There is a gable tin roof, green, running East to West. (The wing goes North to South). There is an inside end chimney.

Mrs. C. H. Conley, Jr. 9/73

This was originally a 1-1/2 story house judging by front and side brickwork. To the rear of #7 is a quaint, 1-1/2 story brick wing, two bays wide and four bays deep with small, 6/6 and 4/4 sash with thin wood lintels and sills and small shutters of two panels.

The front section has a moderate slope "A" frame roof with double flue enclosed chimneys rising from each end. This roof rests on two string brick cornices on the front and rear. The attic is lighted by two small, four pane sash in the east gable. The wing has a steep slope "A" frame roof and both are of metal.

The front is enhanced by a brick herringbone patterned pavement and there is a fieldstone rear dooryard patio.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This private residence, occupied by the owner, was built originally as a two family house and is virtually unaltered except for storm doors. According to the owner, this is the oldest house on E. Third Street and was built over 200 years ago.(?). It is put together with wooden pegs. Two pegs in the living room woodwork have been purposely exposed.

Denmeade Kolb of Salisbury informed the owner that this house was built by his great, great (Kolb) uncle who was killed in the War of 1812.

The back wing of this house was the slave quarters and is now used for the dining room and the kitchen. A loft over these rooms has a trap door and was said to have been a hiding place for slaves. No real changes have been made to the original structure.

This old pair of houses is quaint by its diminutive size and gives character to a streetscape of mid-19th century homes. The rear wing might be older than the front section.
